Subject: [OFFICIAL] Response to: No Safe Place: Restraint and Seclusion in Scotland's Schools - a report by the Children's Commissioner.

From: North Ayrshire Council Education and Youth Employment Directorate.

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to this report.

North Ayrshire Council has considered the recommendations for local authorities and the necessary actions for this council. A plan to overtake identified actions will be produced. Head Teachers have been asked to read and consider the findings in the report and we will discuss it with them and our link senior managers for schools.

Prior to the publication of the report, we had already discussed a review of policy and the training necessary for implementation. We intend to review our policy in due course. Also, we are presently working on a new Promoting Positive Relationships policy and the Commissioner's report's recommendations will be considered in relation to this policy.
